

Key principles for the local co-ordination group

By local co-ordination group, we mean a group of between 4-10 local people who are selected by the church and the community to work with the external facilitators in co-ordinating the process within their community.

1. The local co-ordination group should comprise of between 4-10 people that represent the diversity of the church and the community (including women and children), and should include the church leader or evangelist.
2. The local co-ordination group needs to be well-supported by the facilitators, through training, accompaniment and monitoring in order to develop their capacity.
3. The local co-ordination group needs to be encouraged and supported to adopt empowering and facilitative models of community leadership.
4. The time of people in the Local co-ordination group time should be recognised and remunerated.

Click here for more detail on each of these principles.

Author: Tulo Raistrick